Labor Day Party!

You're invited to a "Who Can Afford to Go to Australia Cook-Out and Potato Salad Bake-Off" party, which will be held on Labor Day. The party is sponsored by FACT.

The party will be held at 1204 Nueces (the former FACT office, and current residence of Willie Siros) on Monday, September 6. It will start at 12 noon and run as long as people want to stay.

We'll be cooking food outside on the grill. FACT will provide soft drinks, paper plates, utensils, napkins, and some meat (Okay, actually burgers and hot dogs, so more like meat by-products.) Condiments and side dishes are potluck, as are any more exotic grilling items like chicken breasts, bratwurst or portobello mushrooms.

The highlight of the party will be the "Potato Salad Bake-Off". Here are the rules:

1. Make it at home.
2. Bring it to the party.
3. Warn people of anything in it they may not want to eat because of allergies or restricted diets or they just can't stand it: shrimp, bacon, jalapenos, eggs, etc.
4. Voting by applause-meter. No Australian ballot. We can't afford Australia, remember?
5. A lovely ribbon will be awarded to the winner. Perhaps even a certificate.

We will turn on the sprinklers in the parking lot for anyone who wants to play in water. We'll also try to have the list of Hugo winners to announce.

Feel free to invite any FACT members (or others in the local SF community) who don't have e-mail.

For more information, contact Debbie Hodgkinson (Debbie_Hodgkinson@radian.com) or Renee Babcock (r.babcock@mail.utexas.edu).

We'd appreciate it if you RSVP, so we'll know how much to buy in the way of supplies. You can e-mail me (Debbie_Hodgkinson@radian.com) or phone Adventures in Crime and Space at 4SF-BOOK (473-2665).

Thanks!

--- Debbie Hodgkinson

Comics News

Former Superman writer Elliot S! Maggin has written "Starwinds Howl", which he feels is the definitive story of Krypto, Superboy's pet. The story is online at his web site (<http://www.starwinds-howl.com/>). Maggin said he got the idea for the story when his seventh-grade child was recently reading a lot of Jack London.

Fandom News

Fans in the Houston area should check out the Saturday Morning Ritual Breakfast Group. This loosely organized band of Science Fiction fans, writers, and NASA types meets every Saturday at the Buffet Express on the northwest corner of Bellaire and Wesleyan (4056 Bellaire). For more information, see <http://www.flash.net/~aajiv/>

Houston fan group Starbase Houston now has its own web domain: <http://www.starbasehouston.org/>

Magazine News

Artemis Magazine, offering "science and fiction for a space-faring society," has just published its first issue. Ian Randall Strock edits this quarterly publication. The first issue has a cover by Alan Bean and contributions from Jack Williamson, Fred Lerner, Stanley Schmidt, Marianne Dyson, and others. For more information: <http://www.lrcpubs.com/artemismagazine.html>

Media News

Here's more Lord of the Rings movie casting: Christopher Lee (Saruman), Liv Tyler (Arwen), and Sean Bean (Boromir).

Famke Janssen has joined the cast of the X-Men movie. She'll play Jean Grey, a telekinetic mutant.

SFX Online reports that the BBC2 plans to adapt Mervyn Peake's epic Gormenghast trilogy into a four-part TV series. The production is being described as a combination of "ingeniously conceived fantasy" and "action-packed comedy." Peake published the first Gormenghast book, Titus Groan, in 1946, followed by Gormenghast in 1950 and Titus Alone in 1959.

Member News

The father of FACT member John Gibbons passed away in late August. The funeral was held Friday, August 27 in San Antonio.

Member Debbie Hodgkinson had an emergency appendectomy recently. She seems to be recovering well, but she'll be out of work for a couple of weeks.

Obituary

James White, 1928 – 1999. Irish SF writer James White died Monday, August 23. He was best known for the "Sector General" books, starting with Hospital Station in 1962 and continuing through the forthcoming Double Contact. With Walt Willis, he co-edited the acclaimed fanzine Slant. White was the Guest of Honor at the 1996 WorldCon in Los Angeles.

Writer News

Texas author Elizabeth Moon is making an extensive trip to Australia. In addition to attending the WorldCon, she'll be speaking in Adelaide (Austin's sister city) on September 15 at their Writers' Centre. She plans to send regular trip reports back to her newsgroup at sff.net and other interested parties.

Meeting Minutes

REGULAR MEETING MINUTES

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

THE FANDOM ASSOCIATION OF

CENTRAL TEXAS - August 9, 1999

The Board of Directors ("the Board") of the Fandom Association of Central Texas ("FACT") convened in a regular meeting at the home of FACT members A.T. Campbell, III and Lori Wolf, at 3801 Hawkshead Drive, Austin, Texas on the 9th day of August, 1999 and the duly constituted officers and members of the Board were in attendance, thus constituting a quorum:

Lori Wolf	Chairman and Director
A.T. Campbell, III	Director
Fred Duarte, Jr	Director
Robert Reedy	Director
Karen Meschke	President
Shane Cook	Treasurer

The meeting was called to order 1:21ish per Chairman,, Lori Wolf. The Minutes of the July 1999 meeting were reviewed and no changes needed to be entered into the record. The July meeting minutes were approved with the change. A.T. made the motion to accept the minutes and Robert Reedy seconded, the vote was 4-0.

- I. Reports of the Officers of FACT
  - a. Chairman's Report - Lori reviewed the previous nights autographing with Walter Jon Williams which was held at Adventures in Crime & Space Bookstore, dinner at the County Line (thanks to Kurt Baty for his special contribution) and impromptu gathering at 1204 Nueces after dinner.
  - b. President's Report - Karen reported that she will be contacting Cliff Davis to include mention of FACT's table at the Texas Book Festival in November and to invite other fans to drop by any flyers regarding their events around the state of Texas
  - c. Vice President's Report - no sightings of Robert Taylor have been made in the past month

- d. Secretary's Report - The matter of FACT members making donation through the United Way have been cleared up. Dan Tolliver was not at the meeting and Lori needs his signature for FACT paperwork.
- e. Treasurer's Report - Shane received two bank statements for the month of July on Saturday at the autographing and stated the following two totals of FACT's totals are from the FACT account - $30729.91, World Fantasy - $2551.21, the ArmadilloCon statements have not yet been received.
- f. Registrar's Report - Carrie was not available, so no report was given.
- g. Social Director's Report-Renee was also not at the meeting., but was seen the previous evening and ideas were discussed with various FACT members for future events.
- h. MIS Report - Earl was not present so no report was given.
- i. Historian's Report - Robert had no report to give.

II. Committee Reports

- a. ArmadilloCon 21 - This report was given by AT who had received a phone call from Mona Gamboa earlier this day. Current membership is around 210, not including program participants. Mona believes the convention is close to their projected break even financial plans. There are 25-30 volunteers ready to attend and each will receive a T-shirt with a Sherlock artwork for their efforts. 39 dealers tables have been bought. All of the GOH travel arrangements have been completed. ArmadilloCon will have publicity stands at both ACS and Book People. Mona will be e-mailing Shane regarding art show info and requests she has received.
- b. ArmadilloCon 22 - Ruben Gamboa has begun contacting GOH's and hopes to have a program book ad in this years ArmadilloCon.
- c. World Fantasy - Fred said that the hotel sales staff was not available in August and a Sept 26th visit was in the works.
- d. Office - Karen will help clean out the office as Lori reported to her from the previous nights social event only a small amount of items will need to be moved. The some party supplies were used for the event last night.
- e. Publications - The August FACT sheet contained another more difficult crossword puzzle..
- f. Reading group - AT reported 8 folks attended the last reading group's discussion. The Jack Williamson book scheduled is now out of print so new books to read will begin in the next month or so.

- g. Nominations Committee - is currently in hiatus pending election coverage.
- h. Bylaws Committee - Robert Reedy passed out copies of the last amended Bylaws from the March 14, 1999 meeting and stated that e-mail communications were ongoing between the members of the committee.

III. Old Business

- a. Autographings - Fred will talk with Willie to see what is available in the next few months.

IV. New Business

- a. Fred will represent FACT along with Sara from ACS at the UT Mall Back to School event on August 24th, he will have flyers for the reading group, FACT, ArmadilloCon, FACT, and World Fantasy.
- b. At 2:20ish, a motion was entertained and moved by all to adjourn

Respectfully submitted,
 Karen Meschke
 Acting as Secretary again (!)

(Note: By unanimous agreement of the Board, the September FACT Board meeting was canceled. The "action without meeting" was conducted via e-mail.)

Reading Group Report

by A. T. Campbell, III

August 3: Cosm by Gregory Benford

The discussion of Gregory Benford's latest hard SF thriller drew a crowd of ten people. Eight had read the book and were there to discuss it, and two showed up just to socialize and join us for dinner. The book is a near future story about a young physicist, Alicia Butterworth, who makes a breakthrough discovery. A large part of the novel is a straightforward but unglamorized portrait of the life of a working academic scientist.

Everyone found the writing style compelling and readable, particularly compared to the stylistic experimentation of Benford's Galactic Center books. We felt that the portrayal of a scientist's life and work is realistic. The details of Dr. Butterworth's life ring true, particularly her obsession with work and her neglect of a social life. Benford pulls off a convincing female viewpoint character. Her personality quirks seem quite believable for a scientist and a woman.

Dr. Butterworth's discovery, the pocket universe "cosm" of the title, fascinated several of us. It is an intriguing idea, and many of us kept turning the pages simply to find out more about the cosm. It proved to be a wonderful vehicle for incorporating existing theory about the life cycle of a universe into a novel.

This book only had minor problems. Several of the minor characters seem shallowly developed, particularly in comparison to the fleshed-out Dr. Butterworth. The speech patterns of the characters are too similar, so conversations often read like a person talking to himself. Also, none of us felt that the scientists in the book seemed as brilliant as they were supposed to be.

It was apparent that the audience for this book is different than the audience of Benford's Galactic Center books. Several years ago the Reading Group had discussed In the Ocean of Night, the first book of that sequence, and found it unremarkable. Most of the people who attended that earlier discussion are still in the group, and they all liked Cosm. One relative newcomer to the group, who'd actually liked the Galactic Center books, was disappointed by the small scope of Cosm's story.

We feel that this book ranks in the upper tier of books about scientists. The details of scientists, universities, and laboratories all ring true. Cosm compares favorably to the works of such writers of "scientist fiction" as John Cramer and Paul Preuss.

August 17: Clouds End by Sean Stewart

Eight people showed up for the discussion of Clouds End, a fantasy novel by ArmadilloCon 21 Guest of Honor Sean Stewart. Six had read the book, and the others were present to socialize or observe. The book is a heroic fantasy set in a fully imagined world. The story concerns a group of island people who get wrapped up in a struggle involving supernatural Heroes and the mysterious Mist. A young woman, Brook, encounters a bird that turns into a twin of herself. Worse yet, the twin (called Jo) brings news of an ominous invasion. This causes Brook, Jo, and several of Brook's friends to embark on a quest of danger and self-discovery.

We found the world of this book to be a brilliant and wonderful piece of invention. Stewart created interesting and fleshed out civilizations and mythologies. One person commented that it seemed like a "harsher, fairyland Discworld." The characters seem like they fit well in this world, and their novel speech patterns are both unique and believable.

The story structure is unusual and complicated. It involved several interweaving plot threads. Also, people in the story often recite mythical stories, which tend to foreshadow events in the "main" story. Knots are an important element in the lives of these seafaring people, and Stewart works knots into every aspect of the story – including its structure.

The biggest problem with this book is that we didn't find the individual characters as interesting as the world they inhabit. We were more interested in descriptions of their society and its fascinating myths than in the careers and love lives of the relatively insignificant group of protagonists. And while most of Stewart's invented speech patterns work wonderfully, some of us had trouble with characters using "Spit!" as a swear word.

Overall we liked this book a lot. Even those who don't normally like fantasy liked this one. As usual for Stewart, Clouds End is unlike anything he'd written previously. We feel that Sean Stewart's approach to fantasy has little or nothing to do with traditional commercial "fat" fantasy, and for this we are grateful.
